

Health, Safety and Wellbeing Policy

Section 1 - Purpose

(1) This policy and its associated procedures set out Charles Sturt University's (the University) commitment to the health, safety and wellbeing of all people within the University community, and ensures compliance with:

- a. Work Health and Safety Act 2011 \(NSW\), Work Health and Safety Regulation 2017 \(NSW\) and Commonwealth, state and/or territory work, health and safety (WHS) legislation, and
- b. relevant codes of practice and Australian standards.

Scope

(2) This policy applies to:

- a. all workers of the University (as defined in the Glossary) and members of the University community (including Council members, students, and associates), and
- b. all University campuses, sites, entities and research areas.

Section 2 - Policy

Policy principles

(3) The following four key principles apply to all WHS duties under the WHS legislation:

- a. WHS duties are not transferable.
- b. A person can have more than one duty.
- c. More than one person can have the same duty.
- d. A duty imposed on a person to ensure health and safety means a duty to eliminate or minimise risks as far as reasonably practicable.

(4) The University is committed to:

- a. the health, safety and wellbeing of its workers, including staff, students and visitors while undertaking activities at or for the University
- b. implementing and maintaining an accessible health and safety management system that, so far as reasonably practicable, identifies and eliminates or reduces risk of injury, illness or harm to people associated with the University's operations
- c. developing and maintaining a culture that encourages all personnel to actively manage health, safety and wellbeing risks
- d. complying with all relevant health and safety legislation, policies and procedures
- e. providing appropriate information, instruction, training and supervision to all workers and visitors to ensure activities are carried out safely

- f. maintaining effective communication and consultation with workers, students, contractors, and other key stakeholders on matters relating to workplace health and safety
- g. actively identifying and managing health and safety risks through the systematic identification of hazards, evaluation of risks and implementation of effective controls
- h. promptly reporting hazards, incidents and injuries; investigating where appropriate; and implementing control measures to eliminate or minimise the risk of recurrence
- i. investigating, monitoring and reporting health and safety performance (both good and bad) and recognising those who contribute positively to improvement
- j. planning, reviewing and assessing health and safety performance against measurable targets and industry best practice to drive continuous improvement.

Due diligence principles

(5) An officer of the University will exercise due diligence with regard to their health and safety obligations. Due diligence will be demonstrated, as appropriate to their position, through:

- a. complying with applicable health and safety legislation and relevant industry standards, codes of practice or Australian standards
- b. establishing, monitoring and reviewing health and safety programs
- c. implementing an effective hazard reporting system and maintaining effective mechanisms to manage identified hazards
- d. providing employees with ongoing WHS training and support
- e. communicating safety initiatives, objectives and key performance indicators
- f. facilitating systematic WHS consultation through established forums such as safety committee(s) and elected health and safety representatives (HSR)
- g. making safety a prominent agenda item at board and management meetings
- h. developing, implementing and promoting initiatives for the improved health and wellbeing of workers and students
- i. identifying and acting with urgency and agility to protect workers from anything that could cause psychological harm to someone's mental health
- j. effective injury management aimed at the early and safe return to work of injured employees, in accordance with its legislative obligations.

Roles and responsibilities

Officers of the University

(6) An officer, in the context of the University (where the University is a person conducting a business or undertaking), means a person who makes, or participates in making, decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part, of the business of the University, or a person who has the capacity to affect significantly the University's financial standing.

(7) For the University an 'officer' includes:

- a. a member of the University Council
- b. a University leader Band 7 or above under the Delegations and Authorisations Policy, and
- c. any person appointed as a director or officer of University related corporations (this will include any person appointed as a director of Charles Sturt Campus Services Limited (CSCS); and any person who makes, or participates in making, decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part, of the business of CSCS; or who has the capacity to affect significantly the financial standing of CSCS; or in accordance with whose instructions or wishes the directors of CSCS are accustomed to act (excluding advice given by the person in the proper performance of functions)).

(8) Other University leaders may be found to be an ‘officer’ of the University on a case by case basis. They may include:

- a. a Band 6 leader under the Delegations and Authorisations Policy, for the unit they oversee
- b. a chief or principal investigator for the research activity that they oversee.

(9) The above examples are not exhaustive. Any person who has influence over decisions that affect the business or undertaking of the University, including any person who makes significant financial decisions, might be an officer for the purposes of the Work Health and Safety Act 2011 \(NSW\), in which case they will have work health and safety duties and responsibilities under that Act.

HSW responsibilities

(10) University roles and health and safety responsibilities are set out in the following table. See also the HSW Schedule: Responsibilities and Accountabilities for further information:

Officer/body	HSW responsibilities
University Council	Accountable for compliance with all health and safety obligations.
Vice-Chancellor	Ultimate responsibility for the implementation and review of this policy, the delegation of health and safety management responsibilities and the allocation of appropriate resources.
Audit and Risk Committee	Oversight of governance, risk and compliance frameworks including policies, procedures, information systems and systems of internal control surrounding key health, safety and wellbeing and operational processes.
Executive Leadership Team	Exercise due diligence to ensure compliance with this policy and associated legislation.
Portfolio and executive leaders	Ensure the University complies with its health and safety legislative obligations within the area of their responsibility. Champion the adoption and implementation of health, safety and wellbeing practices across all areas of the University.
